WASHINGTON CITY.

The Coming Secretary of the Treasury

WASHINGTON, May 28.—The rumor that Bristow of Kentucky is to be the successor of Richardson as Secretary of the Treasury is to-night strengthened in official circles. It is said that the President has formally tendered the position to Bristow and is awaiting his response. Richardson's only reply to numerous inquiries is that he will resign at his own convenience.

Expulsion of Delegate Cannon, of Utah, Anticipated.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—The Committee on Elections will report in favor of the expulsion of Delegate Cannon, for polygamy. There is no doubt that a large majority of the House will sustain the report. The only question is whether or not expulsion requires a two-thirds majority vote in the case of Territorial Delegates. The ablest lawyers claim that only a majority is necessary, because a Delegate is not a constitutional officer.

Senator Mitchell to-day made further argument before the Senate Committee on Public Lands in favor of his bill in aid of the construction of the Oregon Central Railroad or the Oregon and California railway, to be selected by the Company not further south than Eugene City and not further north than Junction City. After an immaterial amendment had been adopted the Committee unanimously agreed to report the bill and recommend its passage.

The President has nominated S. J. McCormick as Postmaster at Portland, Oregon.

TRANS-ATLANTIC DATES.

Paris.—Illness of Pius IX.

[illegible], May 28.—Advices from Rome state that the condition of the Pope is very precarious; that much excitement exists at the Vatican, and that serious results to His Holiness are apprehended.

Eighteen sheepherders lost their lives in the late storm on the Rio Puerco, west of Socorro, New Mexico.

Farm hands are in great demand at all points throughout Colorado and at greatly advanced wages.

A nugget of almost pure silver was obtained in the Poor Man's lode, at Caribou, Colorado, on Monday of last week, which weighed seven pounds avoirdupois. Caribou Mountain is a good one.

The Cheyenne Leader reports a general uprising of Indians from all quarters toward the country bordering the Yellowstone and Powder river. General Custar has been ordered to hold his forces in readiness for an aggressive campaign, and General Sweitzer, of Montana, has called for reinforcements.

The Utah contested election case stands thus in the House. It is decided that Cannon is entitled to his seat as having been fairly elected; but he may be expelled on proof of having [illegible] or being guilty of polygamy. The Committee on Elections was directed to institute an inquiry with reference to that point, and to inform the House when it has been satisfactorily determined. Mr. Cannon's [illegible].

The Cheyenne Leader says: "A petition is being circulated in Laramie City praying the Governor to pardon James Force, who was convicted of manslaughter at the last term of the District Court held there and sentenced to the Penitentiary for one year to expiate his crime. In the opinion of the petitioners the punishment meted out is too severe for the offense of manslaughter, although it would be too lenient for a criminal convicted of a larger crime—for instance, of stealing a good mule worth twenty dollars."

The Salt Lake Herald brings the particulars of the consecration of St. Mark's Episcopal Cathedral in that city on the 14th inst. There were present Bishop Tuttle, of Salt Lake; Bishop Clarkson, Omaha, Nebraska; Bishop Spalding, Denver, Colorado; Rev. R. M. Kirby, Rev. Ballard S. Dunn, Rev. J. M. Turner, Rev. W. Messrs Humphrey and Starr returned to Hazelton, on the Skeena river, on the [illegible] of April from an exploring trip to the head waters of the Skeena. They traveled 90 miles from Hazelton and turned back a short distance from the watershed of the Stickine. Their report of the country is favorable with regard to the practicability of opening a cattle trail to Dease Lake. The trail on leaving the Skeena, a few miles from Hazelton, will lead for [illegible] miles through the Kis-by-ocks Valley, [illegible] as pasture land. Mr. Humphrey pronounces it to be the finest range he has seen in British Columbia.

INDEPENDENT CANDIDATE FOR STATE PRINTER.

Wm. M. Hand, Independent candidate for State Printer, has as many claims to consideration from the people of Oregon as any candidate in the field. He is a man of popular character, and esteemed as a good citizen in different parts of the State where he has lived, and he has every qualification for the office of State Printer. Eastern Oregon will not fail to give him a large vote and we expect that he will receive a handsome indorsement from Southern Oregon, where he once published a newspaper. He is well known also in this valley and we do not hesitate to commend him to all voters as in every sense worthy of their support. The following from a correspondent relates to an incident in Mr. H.'s life:

MR. EDITOR: In the month of October 1855, during the Rogue River Indian war, I had occasion to go to Jacksonville from Roseburg, the place where I was then residing. When I arrived at the Grave Creek House—then kept by Harkness & Twogood—I noticed a young man lying in a corner of the main room, and on asking who it was I was told it was one of the Volunteers who had been wounded at the battle of Hungry Hill only a few days before and left there to die. Upon inquiring of the young man—for he was not more than nineteen or twenty years old—I ascertained that his name was Hand and that he was severely, if not fatally, wounded—the ball having entered the right hip and running up was cut out of the left side. My opinion was at the time that his [illegible] for getting well was about one in a thousand. In noticing the name Hand on the Independent State ticket for State Printer, and as I had almost forgotten the incident above related, I feel a curiosity to know if this is the same Hand I saw lying wounded in the corner of the Grave Creek House in 1855. Any [illegible] well acquainted with the Mr. Hand on the Independent ticket will [illegible] and satisfy my curiosity [illegible] the same person.

A SUBSCRIBER.

We answer the inquiry by stating that Mr. Hand [illegible] in the war [illegible] and is the same person [illegible] [illegible] Mr. Hand [illegible] [illegible] of Oregon [illegible] the late war and [illegible] Sentinel.

CAMPBELL OR GROVER WHICH?

Th[illegible] at the election lies between the Independent and the Democratic ticket. Hundreds who went to [illegible] Campbell [illegible] of the day prejudiced against him, came away fully resolved to vote for him as the man to whom alone they can look certainly for retrenchment, light taxation, and general reform in the administration of State affairs. No man ever went before the people of Oregon and succeeded in making so good a record. A vote for Campbell is a vote on the winning side.—Albany Democrat, May 1[illegible].

TIMBUCTOO'S COMPLIMENTS TO DR. E. J. DAWNE

[illegible] DAWNE'S [illegible]

ALBANY, May [illegible], 1874.

To the Editor of the Oregonian:

[illegible] that Dr. Dawne [illegible] in quotation marks has published another [illegible]. And it is indeed a unique specimen of [illegible], I think it but simple justice to Dr. Dawne to say that in my opinion there is not another clergyman in the State who is capable of such an [illegible]. In this case [illegible] he has succeeded in [illegible], and I am sure that nobody else will ever [illegible] written the card. Its [illegible] chaste [illegible] published [illegible] is the [illegible] that nobody [illegible] have written it who had not left a good many diplomas [illegible] him when he came to Oregon. People who bring diplomas with them don't write after that peculiar fashion. I suppose that the Doctor intends this is to be his final answer to the charges made against him in my former letters. I therefore purpose to examine it carefully to ascertain what allegations are denied and to determine the sufficiency of those denials. It will remembered that my first and principal charge against the Doctor was that of incompetency for the office which he seeks. It is upon this fact that my own opposition to him is chiefly based. If he is not qualified for the position, as I claim he is not, he ought not to be elected even if he had forty medical diplomas. Let us see how far he has answered this charge, examining separately each specification under it.

I asserted and I still assert that he has not sufficient education to enable him to worthily fill the office of State Superintendent, or even to teach a common country school. He does not deny it. I asserted and I still assert, that he has never had the slightest experience in teaching and knows nothing about school or school matters. He does not deny it. I asserted and I still assert that he is a carpetbagger who has been only a few months in the State, and knows nothing whatever about our school system or the workings and needs of our public schools. He [illegible] not deny it. [illegible] only allusion that he makes to this branch of the case is to say that Dr. Geary and Hon. [illegible] Thornton pronounce Timbuctoo a liar as to the charges that a certain [illegible] of his was borrowed and that he cannot spell. This statement is simply a specimen of the Doctor's extravagant mendacity. The fact is that Dr. Geary has said nothing of the kind, and though Judge Thornton did write a vindication of Dr. Dawne he did not pronounce anybody a liar. He used no such language in any part of his communication. It seems to me that it would be more becoming to the Doctor's cloth [illegible] this character not to accuse gentlemen of saying things which he knows they have not said.

And just here let me remark that Judge Thornton's part in this business is eminently characteristic of the man. The Judge, you know, is afflicted with a very troublesome disease—troublesome at least to other people—which Juvenal, I think, calls cacoethes scribendi [illegible]. He would vindicate anybody to get a chance of taking part in a newspaper controversy and of seeing his name in print. But Dr. Dawne places altogether too high a value on the Judge's testimony. Certainly the Judge's defense of Dr. Dawne is dishonest, or he has been grossly deceived. Senility must indeed be telling on the old gentleman's intellect if he could find no errors in orthography or grammar in something less than a "bushel" of Dawne's sermons. The Judge has to do his writing now by machinery, and if he should continue to fail at this rate he will have to get another machine soon to do his thinking for him. Ah, I am afraid that Judge Thornton has permitted his desire to serve "Dr." Dawne to get the better of his judgment, or of his veracity. I am not sure which.

On this point—as to the "Doctor's" orthography—I am prepared to prove all that I have charged. I am not permitted at this time, however, to mention the documents in which he misspelled the words "Professor," "whip" and [illegible], but I will obtain leave to do so if Dr. Dawne demands it. But I have in my possession a short sermon (of a very peculiar kind) written by the "Doctor," which I [illegible] and which I herewith transmit to the OREGONIAN. It is in the Doctor's own handwriting, and contains within two pages of letter paper no less than seven errors in spelling, three or four mistakes in grammar and other inaccuracies too numerous to mention. I [illegible] here the errors in spelling to which I refer. He spells "thousands" thus, "thousends"; passed (participle of pass) thus, "past"; physiological thus, "physiologial"; wholly thus, "whuly"; star[illegible] thus, "star[illegible]"; reckoned thus, "recond." The errors in grammar may be seen by any one who desires to examine the document. You can keep it on exhibition until the election. I should ask you to print it were it not of so indecent a character. As you will observe, the "Doctor" takes a passage of Scripture and makes it the subject of vulgar comment. This sermon I am willing to believe was not borrowed from Bascom. No one who is acquainted with the "Doctor's" handwriting will question the genuineness of this document.

I also have in my possession some other specimens of the Doctor's composition which I cannot send you. From these I clip the following samples of peculiar spelling: "nots" for knots, "bracting" for bracketing, "rabited" for rabbeted (a term used in carpeting), "Thursday" for Thursday, "Wednesday" for Wednesday, "clere" for clear, etc. But why multiply proofs on this point? The Doctor's incompetency for the position for which he is running is so notorious that his warmest friends cannot gainsay it. Even his enthusiastic admirer from Arkansas who recently gave his name to the [illegible] could only say that he believed him to be qualified for Superintendent of Public Instruction because he had known of him being interested in building a schoolhouse down in Arkansas.

As to the diploma matter, this is a little more explicit than the one first published by the Doctor. He has at last succeeded in remembering the names of the institutions from which he claims to have received his diplomas. But I am very much afraid that he has not [illegible] his memory at the expense of his veracity. He says now that he received his medical degree from Oglethorpe University. Well then, Doctor, why didn't you say so at first? Why have you waited [illegible] until just the week [illegible] the election before mentioning the name of that institution? I remember you told Dr. Carpenter that you were a graduate of the Medical Department of the University of Louisiana of the year 1866. You have not denied that you told him so, and you will not deny it. [illegible] Here is Dr. Carpenter's account of the matter [illegible] direct and positive:

Dr. Carpenter's Statement.

SALEM, [illegible] 1874.

Dr. Dawne told me distinctly and [illegible] the Medical Department of the University of Louisiana [illegible] the one in which Dr. Warren Stone [illegible] the statement [illegible] to the Dean of the Faculty of that institution [illegible] standing between [illegible] positive and clear in my recollection of what he said. He never mentioned Oglethorpe University to me. The statements made in Timbuctoo's first letter to the OREGONIAN as to what passed between Dr. Dawne and myself were correct in every particular.

H. CARPENTER.

And Dr. Carpenter is not the only man to whom you said that you were a graduate of the Louisiana school. You said the same to Dr. Hall and to other members of the Medical Faculty and also to a certain prominent Democrat in Salem whose name I am not permitted to give. Indeed the testimony is overwhelming and could [illegible] your own admissions [illegible]

[illegible] that [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] DAWNE [illegible] OGLETHORPE [illegible] AND [illegible]

But this is not all. The Doctor [illegible] [illegible] travel when he ventured to give the name of Oglethorpe University [illegible] a week [illegible] for [illegible] election. It doesn't take a week to get news from Atlanta, Doctor. [illegible] where you made your mistake. Within twenty four hours after your card was published the following [illegible] went over the wires:

SALEM, May [illegible], 1874.

To the President of Oglethorpe University, Atlanta, Ga.:

Was [illegible] E. J. Dawne graduated [illegible] your [illegible] in 18[illegible]? [illegible] Reply by telegraph [illegible]

J. B. STONE.

And this was the reply:

ATLANTA, [illegible] May [illegible], 1874.

J. B. [illegible], Oregon: The Oglethorpe University never had a medical Department; therefore the person referred to could not have graduated there as a physician.

DAVID WILLS, Ex-President.

It seems to me, Doctor, that these little missives leave nothing further to be said on that subject.

THE "DR.'S" LATEST DODGE.

I understand that since the foregoing telegram was received "Dr." Dawne has again shifted his defense. He says now that the Oglethorpe University from which he got his degree was a different Oglethorpe from the one mentioned in the above dispatches. Of course it was—entirely different! The Doctor says that his Oglethorpe was at Barton, a few miles from Atlanta; that it was started some time in 1866 and went down shortly after he got his degree. Of course it went down then. What purpose could be in its existence after that? Having granted that diploma it had fulfilled its mission. But the idea of another Oglethorpe altogether is [illegible]. The University from which the above telegram was received is an old institution well known in the South. It has been in existence 40 years. Now can anybody believe that another institution of the same name would be started in the same State and within a few miles of Atlanta, where the old Oglethorpe was located?

The Doctor's claim that he got an express receipt for his diploma on the 21st shows that it was started on the [illegible] only [illegible] corroborates what I have heretofore hinted at [illegible] the delays and uncertainties of the express. Of course the express that carries that diploma couldn't get here as soon as a letter by mail that started at the same time. The express receipt reached here on the 21st, but the diploma won't get here until after the election. There is nothing like the express for being slow!

THAT OTHER DEGREE.

Dr. Dawne alleges that he got the degree of A. M. from Mountain Home University. I trust that it is with all due humility that I make the confession that I never heard of that institution. But I am consoled by the thought that I have excellent company in my ignorance. Gen. Eaton, the Commissioner of Education, has never heard of Mountain Home University either. His report contains a list of all the colleges and universities in the United States but that one. He mentions Sublimity College, but "Mountain Home University" never. By the way, Doctor, wasn't it Mountain Dew University instead of Mountain Home, and didn't it dispense its degrees by the quart? They say that you are rather fond of "mountain dew," and perhaps that is where you got the taste. You must have got your degree of M. D. at the same place. Perhaps M. D. means Mountain Dew or Mighty Dry. Either will do.

Ah, Doctor, Doctor, the best course for you is not to try to squirm out of this any more, but just to own up like a man.

TIMBUCTOO.

TO THE VOTERS OF THE IRISH RACE IN PORTLAND.

PORTLAND, May 29, 1874.

The present political contest is one in which we are more than ordinarily interested from the fact that some of our best men have been ostracised by the nominating conventions on account of race. The gentleman upon whom the heaviest part of this responsibility is laid is now a candidate for the office of Sheriff on the Republican ticket. Shall we passively submit to have it thrown in our teeth that we [illegible]? I will not [illegible] by stating the meanness of the bribe. We are not [illegible] of [illegible] patriots. No. There is no danger to the Nation at present. If there were we would be the most welcome [illegible] think a little of our [illegible] manhood when he entrusted the most important commands to the men of our race. King George had not money enough to [illegible] saucy Jack Barry, the father of the American navy, and shall we, the descendants of men who [illegible] and who [illegible] adorn the pages of American history, give our support to those who can treat us so contemptuously? The American flag is to us no alien flag. We have made it ours by the blood of our kindred and our own. We have therefore a right [illegible] second to any other people protected by its ample folds. Let us teach those bigots by our votes on next Monday that we are the same lovers of true liberty that we have always been, and that [illegible] of whatever race or party he may belong to can have our support.

The statement that Mr. Caywood's opponent is a favorer of Chinese labor is being industriously circulated. I am authorized to give this report a most emphatic denial and to state further that there is no man in Oregon more willing to have that class of immigration entirely put an end to.

The only object the writer of this has in view is that the dignity of the Irish race and character may be maintained, and to teach bigots that they cannot be treated with impunity.

A HATER OF INTOLERANCE.

THE DOCTOR'S CHALLENGE ANSWERED.

WATERLOO, LINN CO., May 2[illegible], 1874.

Whereas Dr. Hendrix and M. G. [illegible], as I have understood, have made statements at Lebanon on this day that my signature under a statement appearing in the Albany [illegible] of May [illegible] was a forgery, I therefore [illegible] the statement underwritten.

In 1860 Mr. and Mrs. Brown were living in Canyon City, Grant county, Oregon, and were reputed to be man and wife. Not long after I moved to Canyon City, having during the time become acquainted with Mr. and Mrs. Brown at the time above stated, Dr. Hendrix left unceremoniously with Mrs. Brown on a hack to the Willamette Valley. I have no knowledge that Mrs. Brown had ever been divorced from her husband. The general opinion was at the time that Dr. Hendrix and Mrs. Brown left that he was getting away with Brown's wife. Mr. Brown was living at that time.

Dr. Hendrix was [illegible] recognized him as the man [illegible] I knew by the name of [illegible] above mentioned article [illegible]

WM. [illegible]

WATERLOO, May [illegible], 1874.

Personally appeared before me W[illegible], [illegible] after being duly sworn states that he did make and sign the above statement and that it is true and correct.

Made and sworn to before me this [illegible] day of May, 1874.

FRANK B. MACK, Justice of the Peace.

GONE BACK ON IT.—We were mistaken in assuming in another place in this paper that Jo [illegible] that Marion county would give Grover a majority—Jo refused to come to the center. Jo is a man of better judgment than we gave him credit for. Although it is [illegible] likely that Marion county has been colonized for Grover, yet it is also true that Grover will not carry the county. Campbell will get a handsome vote over both his competitors in that county. Put that down.—[illegible]

OREGON.

The Linn County [illegible] Society will [illegible] at Albany next Tuesday.

The new bridge across the Yamhill at McMinnville will be finished in two or three weeks.

The [illegible] are [illegible] in Polk county next to politics. Several schools have been broken up.

The second brick kiln of the season was fired up at the Penitentiary [illegible] of this week. There are [illegible],000 brick in it.

A Yamhill man paid $50 for a lamb ten days old the other day. Two old sheep were sold at the same time for $100 and $110 respectively.

Forest Grove Grange held its Harvest Feast in the new [illegible] Hall on Saturday, May 23d, and initiated a class of 27 into the Fourth Degree.

The picnic of the Salem Brass Band at [illegible] Hill was a decided success. About 70 persons participated and each one reports having a splendid time.

The annual camp meeting held by the M. E. Church North near McMinnville will commence on the 18th of June and continue over the third Sabbath. All are invited.

Two McMinnville young ladies, riding the one horse the other day, were thrown, and one of them, Mrs. Mary Smith, received injuries of a very severe if not dangerous nature.

The Patrons of Husbandry of Washington county will hold a basket picnic at Hillsboro on the 4th of July next. Members of the Order in Yamhill, Multnomah and Clackamas counties are invited to participate on that occasion.

Mr. L. [illegible] has received a contract from the Salem Flouring Mill Company to manufacture 6,000 grain sacks. This speaks well for the business of Salem, that they are able to manufacture what has heretofore been imported.

The officers of the Adelphi Society of Pacific University and Tualatin Academy are: President, W. J. Chandler; Vice President, George Collier; Secretary, Seymour W. Condon; Ass't Secretary, Louis J. Anderson; Treasurer, O. P. Anderson; Marshal, W. W. Hinshaw.

The Oregon City Enterprise says: Last Thursday night the store of Williams & Harding was broken into and some tobacco, cigars and tobacco stolen therefrom. The thief or thieves effected an entrance through a back window into the lake room and then opened the rear door by smashing in the window sash. They got no money, but from appearances got all they wanted to eat and smoke.

Encouraged by the success of some of the Columbia river fishermen, parties in Olympia have made arrangements with carpenters for the erection of suitable buildings and a cooper for the requisite number of barrels to commence a salmon fishery somewhere down the Sound. As the very best quality of salmon are easily taken in large quantities at a number of places on the Sound, we predict for the enterprising parties success.

Mr. M. Z. Goodell gives the Courier cheering news from the Chehalis valley. He says the crops of all kinds are in splendid condition, and more than the usual acreage has been sown and planted. He estimates a surplusage of wheat over home consumption in the valley, below Block House and Smith's, of some 20,000 bushels. Should his expectations be realized it is likely that the shipments would be made in schooners by way of Gray's Harbor.

The Olympia Courier of the 28th says: The work on the railroad has progressed finely today. Some seventy working force went from Olympia and were joined by about thirty from Tumwater. They commenced at the grade above the town of Tumwater and worked down towards the [illegible] and had reached the mill yard when our informant left. The ladies provided an excellent dinner. The Olympia Band were out in full strength and enlivened the scene with good music this morning and then joined the working force.

A young lady in Mansfield, La., writes to her sister in Polk county thus: "Is there a Doctor Young living anywhere near you? A Doctor Young ran away and went to Oregon; at least he was there two years ago. He has deserted a wife who then lived seven years ago in New Orleans, but now lives here in this place with [illegible] who moved here three years ago. She is a very nice lady and did not know whether he was alive or not, as he wrote he would be at home to dinner on such a day. She thought he had been murdered. Her uncle knows he was in Oregon two years ago, but they never mention his name to her as she is so very sad. She was and is devoted to him. I write this to warn you against such a man, as he is an adventurer."

JUDGE STRONG'S CANDIDACY.

To the Editor of the Oregonian:

There has been a great deal of [illegible] Judge Strong was nominated. He was supposed to have been brought forward by and in the interests of the O. S. N. Co. because of their supposed opposition to the Salt Lake railroad. This is an entire mistake. He was not brought forward by any such influence, but simply for the reason that from the platform of the party legislation requiring high legal attainments was required. And how was this to be accomplished if not by some lawyer whose ability was unquestioned? How, if we carry the Legislature, is the whole scope of the law to be changed, reducing the fees of Sheriffs and Clerks, and other reforms, if we have not a lawyer at the helm? For this reason Judge Strong was nominated, and if the people desire to lessen taxation they will elect him with the whole Independent Legislative ticket. Were the eight hundred petitioners in earnest when they asked us to nominate a ticket for them?

ONE OF THE COMMITTEE.

A WORD TO COLORED VOTERS.

PORTLAND, May 29, 1874.

To the Editor of the Oregonian:

As the coming election is near at hand and the colored people are looking at the respective candidates for offices, I think it would be well for them to call to mind that J. M. Caywood said on the 17th day of June, 1872, at a municipal election (for members of the Common Council) that [illegible] were [illegible] to vote but not to hold office. And on next Monday the intelligent colored voters are going to remember him at the polls.

A COLORED VOTER.

ANOTHER WORD TO COLORED VOTERS.

PORTLAND, May 29, 1874.

To the Editor of the Oregonian:

In the presence of several members of the [illegible] J. M. Caywood [illegible] said that he would [illegible] elect [illegible] the votes of all the colored citizens of Portland [illegible]

A COLORED MAN.

CENTRALIZATION IN SWITZERLAND.—Switzerland has by a [illegible],000 majority adopted a [illegible] constitution [illegible] the [illegible] and put [illegible] under the [illegible] of government. It provides for a central university, to which the [illegible] of all creeds shall be admitted. It was thought necessary to introduce an article to the effect that the government should protect the rights of all its citizens against the encroachment of ecclesiastical authority.

GROVER FALL BEHIND IN LINN.—Hon. Ben Hayden announced to speak in this city on Monday last, as we are informed, although here failed to make a speech because of sickness. The outlook for Democracy, even in Linn county, is bad enough to make even the average Democrat sick, and as the day of election approaches matters get worse and worse.—Albany Register.

HON BEN HARDING IN THE CANVASS.

We now come to the richest part of the show. Hon. Ben Harding took the stand, evidently very angry at the slurs and insinuations cast upon the Independent party. He referred to the speech of Mr. Gilbert and his insinuations against members of his party, affirming that they possessed a reputation for honesty which this young man might well envy. He said Gilbert was a cross between a carrion buzzard and a ring-tailed monkey. In fact, he took Andy pretty much as a trained terrier would a rat, gave him one shake and left him a quivering mass of flesh, hair and bones. He then waded into the corruptions of the present County Board and showed up the rascalities and corruptions in their true light. About this time the Chairman informed Mr. Harding that his time was up, but not having been previously in the canvass and not knowing the rules, the ex-Senator declined to leave the stand. Then ensued a scene which beggars description. Reed rushed on the floor and [illegible] of the audience insisted upon a compliance with the rules. Harding said if the audience desired him to quit he would do so, otherwise he would not. Finally, amid the general uproar, Mr. Harding announced that all who wished to hear him through could come out and he would finish his speech. A large crowd followed him out, said by parties who counted them to be about 90, leaving 70 odd on the inside. Mr. Harding mounted a wagon and spoke in the open air about an hour, when the crowd returned to the room.—Salem Mercury, May 28th.

A MELANCHOLY PICTURE.—It was indeed a melancholy picture that was presented to the view of the passengers of a Mississippi steamer that took a short cut across some Louisiana plantations on the way down to New Orleans. The flood had swept over what a few days before had been a cotton field, leaving only the tops of trees above the water, near which could be seen the chimney of a house rising a foot above the surface. On the top of the smokeless flue was perched a rooster. His wings hung limp, his eyes were half closed and his majesty of demeanor was gone. He had given it up. Whether he was the sole survivor he did not explain. He did not seem to care to be rescued, as he hoisted no signal for relief, and the steamer with a parting cheer left him alone in his glory. As the sound reached him he [illegible] off wing [illegible] and waved a sad farewell with his disengaged foot.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Theodore D. B. Price, convicted of the murder of R. E. Neade in Wet Mountain valley, Colorado, last December, has been sentenced to imprisonment for life in the penitentiary at Canyon City. Price received his sentence with indifference.

Resolved, That the compensation of Clerk and Sheriff of this county should be fixed salaries, not exceeding [illegible] for the [illegible] and [illegible] the Clerk [illegible] per year; that the law allowing fees to these officers [illegible] against the county should be repealed and their other fees should be reduced to the rates allowed under the law of 1860, such fees, except in case of Sheriff [illegible], collected by the respective officers and paid into the County Treasury; that each of these officers should be allowed such number of deputies as the County Court, consisting of the Judge and Commissioners, should determine to be necessary, and such deputies should be paid out of the County Treasury salaries not exceeding $100 per month each.

That there is no necessity for more than one Assessor, Treasurer or tax collector for the city and county, and that the duties of each of these officers could be performed quite as well and more economically by a single officer for both city and county, the compensation of such officers to be apportioned between the city and county according to a fair estimate of the work required by each.

That the appropriation out of the County Treasury of [illegible] salaries for jailor and janitor [illegible] in disregard of the interests of the people of Multnomah county, and the candidates named by this Committee for Judge and Commissioners are pledged if elected to discontinue such appropriation as well as all others not necessary [illegible] county affairs.

That the Charter of Portland should be so amended as to make the Board of Police Commissioners consist of the Mayor of the city (who should be the President of the Board) and two commissioners appointed by the Governor, and the Common Council should have power to fix the number of police officers by ordinance.

That we heartily approve of the exertions of our delegation in Congress in behalf of the Portland and Salt Lake railroad; that we regard the building of said road as [illegible] to the development of this city and State, and the candidates for the Legislature [illegible] securing [illegible] the right [illegible] State, and to endeavor to secure the adoption of a memorial asking Congress to [illegible].

That there should be passed an [illegible] law [illegible] registration [illegible] this election.

That the candidates nominated by this Committee for the Legislature are pledged to endeavor if elected to secure legislation in accordance with these resolutions, and to exercise the most rigid economy in all departments of the public service, and to reduce taxation in every practicable way.

SATURDAY MORNING MAY 30 1874

"SHATTUCK MUST BE BEATEN AT ALL HAZARDS"

Such is the telegram received from Washington yesterday, by the ring Why beat Shattuck at all hazards?" Why is the election of Mr W Carey Johnson so important to the magnate who rules and owns the Republican party in Oregon? Do the voters of this district exist solely for the purpose of registering decrees from Washington? What does this lordly mandate "Shattuck must be beaten at all hazards" mean? Does it mean that the People's candidate for District Judge must be defeated by the lavish use of money? Are bribery, repeating and perjury to rule the hour and decide the fortunes of the day? Does this imperious command mean that the honest expression of the will of honest people is to be thwarted at all hazards? Are the good citizens of this District nothing that this telegram is borne across the continent? Are they not able to get along without advice and cash from Washington? Have they not had enough of both? Is a judiciary free, untrammeled unpurchased and unpurchasable worth nothing to the people of this District?

Why this impudent ukase from the National Capital? Has Judge Shattuck defrauded anybody? Has he not a knowledge of law and is he not a respecter of law? Does he belong to any clan of public plunderers that he must be beaten "at all hazards!" Does corruption, public or private, lie at his door?

These are some of the inquiries suggested by the telegram which came from Washington yesterday It is true that Judge Shattuck has never "given in his adhesion" as a prominent member of the ring has expressed it He is a gentleman above fear, and beyond reproach And we much mistake the temper of the times, we much mistake the people of this Judicial District if it be possible to carry out the imperious order "Shattuck must be beaten at all hazards" But now we know the center of attack Shattuck must be beaten at all hazards?"

AN HONEST ELECTION IN MULTNOMAH COUNTY

As will be seen by a notice published on our third page the business men of Portland have agreed to close their places of business on next Monday This is something unusual It has a significance, and if we mistake not it means that the taxpayers of Portland duly appreciate the magnitude of the issues at stake in the hand-to-hand contest with the ring upon which the honest voters of Multnomah county have entered

It is understood that on next Monday the different polls in this city will be guarded by the best citizens of Portland The men who have to bear the burden of taxation propose to see to it that the ruffians who have so long controlled our elections are held in check There will be bullies in every precinct—bullies by the score to intimidate voters They will be met and conquered. Bribery will be attempted, and all that can be accomplished by a lavish and corrupt use of money these various brigades of bullies will attempt The election of next Monday will be a square fight between honesty and villainy Let every man who wants a pure judiciary and an honest administration of county affairs look to his blade!

MR J C MORELAND'S WHISKY DONATION

We wish some ardent friend of the worthy cause of Temperance would bend his energies to the task of classifying the so-called Temperance candidates now before the people of Oregon There are three divisions which would accommodate most of them moderate drinkers, men who can be persuaded to guzzle, and habitual drunkards We do not know, at the present writing, just where the Republican candidate for Prosecuting Attorney of this District belongs The only clue we possess is this fact that he has entrusted to Mr E a demijohn of whisky to be presented to the voters of Powell's Valley precinct with the compliments of J C Moreland, Temperance candidate for Prosecuting Attorney of the Fourth Judicial District"

WILL RICHARD EXPLAIN?

People who read the report of Richard Williams' speech at the Albany Convention last September, when he declined to accept the Hipple nomination because defeat was certain, will remember these words of his, "God knows I have sins enough of my own to carry without attempting to pack the sins of other men" Now what did Richard mean? Can it be that he was a prophet? Ah, Richard, one said of old "Be sure your sin will find you out"

THIRTY THOUSAND DOLLARS

Mr J M Caywood and friends are moaning bitterly over the exhibit published in the OREGONIAN of last Monday They say the figure is too high, by at least five thousand dollars. We will, for the nonce accept the Sheriff's estimate—$30,000 And what shall then be said? Simply this that the taxpayers of Multnomah county will save twenty-six thousand [illegible] hundred dollars ($26 000) by defeating Caywood and electing Jeffery Is that plain enough?

AUDACITY

In yesterday's Bulletin the mask is at last thrown off and its shame boldly paraded In a paragraph under the caption of "For the Corruption Fund" after condemning our opposition to "gambling" with the sneer, How very virtuous, to be sure! it has the audacity to avow its objects and aims as follows

> The ring needs all the money it can get to carry out its scheme of corrupting the election for which it is paying and will pay thousands of dollars

Read that item in our Oregon news, on the first page inquiring for information concerning one Dr Young who has Hippled somebody in Louisiana It does not state that he graduated from the 'Medical Department of the University of Louisiana'

Poor Tolman But [illegible] to make a [illegible] man to day

WHO SHALL BE GOVERNOR?

We have repeatedly expressed our opinion on this important question and we are glad to find that the partisan press of Oregon has at last come to endorse it Thus, the Bulletin affirms that there is no possible chance for Grover's election there are too many disaffected Democrats who will vote for Campbell On the other hand the Democratic [illegible] concede that Gov Grover will lose a part of the Democratic vote But say they Tolman can not possibly be elected the Republicans who declined to vote for Hiram Smith and the Hipple resolution will not now stultify themselves by voting for the supposed infamy under another guise—they will vote for T F Campbell

To illustrate the situation we place in apposition these two extracts from the Salem Mercury (Democratic) and the Salem Statesman (Ring Republican)

> Tolman made a complete failure in many places east of the mountains and his friends were utterly ashamed of him Tolman will not make a respectable run in any of the counties of the State and his few friends are becoming disinterested They see defeat staring them in the face from every side—Mercury May 28th

Here is the other side

> There are legions of Democrats in all parts of the State who declare they will not vote for Grover We can count right here in Salem more than sixty such men There are treble that number in the county There are more than two hundred such men in Polk county They are everywhere—may be counted by tens twenties fifties and hundreds in every county —Statesman May 28th

Now in the name of everything sensible can reasonable men doubt that there is a modicum of truth in what these opposing journals say of the candidates they represent? If Grover shall lose in his own county one half the vote claimed by the Statesman—that is ninety votes—and if he shall lose in Polk county (always Democratic) even one hundred votes then what can he expect from Linn county where the staunchest supporters of his first candidacy are assiduously working for his defeat, from Benton county, where the sentiment against his Equalization Board record is overwhelmingly against him from Lane county where the oldest and strictest Democrats are moving heaven and earth to beat him? Shall we go farther south? There the disaffection increases in extent and in intensity Or shall we go east of the Cascade mountains? There the slaughter of Nesmith and the nomination of that wretched man LaDow confront him There Umatilla's august frown warns him that 300 Democrats have entered into a covenant to compass his defeat Nor will he fare better in Baker and Wasco These things being true there remains little doubt of Gov Grover's retirement to private life

As for Tolman, he is, as we have repeatedly said, only a commodity to be bartered for votes for Williams We suppose the editor of the Mercury has talked with him for he said in Portland on his return from The Dalles, that he could not command one fifth of the party vote in Eastern Oregon

Such being the facts these questions arise will the disaffected Democrats vote for Tolman? Will the disaffected Republicans—that 54 per cent who resolutely declined to bend the knee to Hipple—will they vote for Grover? These questions are easily answered So inveterate and incurable are the hostilities of the old organizations that every voter of the class heretofore described will reply 'Is thy servant a dog that he should do this thing?'

And now, if Tolman will not make a respectable run in any of the counties of the State and if there are legions of Democrats in all parts of the State who declare they will not vote for Grover what under the heavens is there to prevent T F Campbell from being elected Governor? The fact is, both the old parties are telling some wholesome truths They are convicting each other of corruptions and all manner of evil works And now each is taunting the other with undeniable weakness!

WHO ARE THE MANAGERS

We suppose everybody knows that the Republican Convention which met in Salem, April 8th, adopted a platform containing a resolution which expressly denounces the interference of Federal office-holders in State and municipal politics Of course everybody in Portland knows that these same Federal office holders came back from that Convention and so manipulated the primaries in Multnomah county that W W Spaulding, the undoubted choice of seven-tenths of the Republicans of this county, was defeated and J M Caywood a man in every way distasteful to friends of good government, secured the nomination for Sheriff What! Denounce the interference of Federal office-holders in conventions and elections! Why, the caucuses of the ring managers have been held nightly in the office of Thos G Young [illegible] Marshal And every Federal office-holder in the city attends these secret meetings where schemes of bribery and other election frauds are set on foot where plans for repeating and for corrupting the ballot box are discussed and perfected There are several of these meetings to be held to night The different precincts in the city have their squads of repeaters and bullies with captains lieutenants and sergeants [illegible] We have the names of some of them and we shall be greatly [illegible] if our information do not bring about the conviction and punishment of some of the most audacious scoundrels in the office holders brigade

For the information of those interested we announce that a meeting of the precinct committee for Couch precinct will be held to night at the Custom House The committee for Madison precinct will meet at the house of Mr Kellogg—Captain etc The committee for North Portland precinct will assemble at Thos G Young's office at 7 o'clock Federal officials don't interfere in elections Oh no

> HURRAH FOR THE FORKS—The [illegible] the Forks is splendid The Independent ticket will carry it by storm One gentleman, a life long Democrat up to within the past few weeks now an ardent Independent is positive that the Independent ticket will get [illegible] hundred majority in the Forks What does our Democrat neighbor think of the ground hogs over there —Albany Register May 29

"DR L J DAWNE—FOR THE LAST TIME

It is our intention to dispose of Dr L J Dawne this time, and we do not think that after we have got through with him he will be anxious to have his name remembered among the sons of [illegible] on the first day of June

"Dr E J Dawne reports at length, to the Dean of the Medical Faculty of Willamette University that he received his diploma entitling him to the degree of M D from the Medical Department of the University of Louisiana Subsequently it will be remembered he found the position untenable "Timbuctoo" had [illegible] to do with his [illegible] In fact the Dean of the Medical Department of the University of Louisiana telegraphed to Oregon that no such person as E J Dawne ever graduated from that institution Then Dr Dawne protested that he had been misunderstood He never said he was possessed of a diploma from the University aforesaid On the contrary he was grieved that Dr Carpenter did not consult him before making inquiry concerning his (Dawne's) antecedents Oglethorpe University was his alma mater His name glittered in unimpeachable lustre on the roll of Oglethorpe's alumni Also he was an A M but Mountain Home University was responsible for this

When Dr Dawne said these things a good many people smiled The whole argument in his defense was exceeding diaphanous And this notwithstanding 'Fayetteville District Arkansas' rolled up from her wooded dells and craggy mountains a touching testimonial to the personal identity of the only original Dr Dawne The wicked sneered, and the unrighteous man said Dr E J D was a 'bilk'" Still, Mr Thornton averred that the Dr's sermons were not stolen from Bascom, while the charge that Dr Dawne conveyed his medical lore to thirsting students by a system of cheap transportation known as plagiarism was indignantly repudiated by a gushing young physician of Linn county who had been greatly edified by his intercourse with the princely Dawne of Fayetteville District, Arkansas" So it was finally settled that E J D had graduated at Oglethorpe and Mountain Home He had sent for his diploma and it had left his home in Virginia on the 7th day of May—he had the Express Company's receipt for that Just to see how far Dr Dawne's perturbation would carry him, a gentleman in Salem telegraphed a day or two ago to the President of Oglethorpe University inquiring whether or not a party by the name of E J Dawne had ever obtained a medical diploma from that institution Here is the telegram

SALEM May 26 1874

To the President of Oglethorpe University Atlanta, Georgia Was E J Dawne graduated from your University as a Doctor of Medicine in 1866 or any subsequent year? Telegraph answer immediately

(Signed) I B STONE

And here is the answer

ATLANTA GA May 27 1874

To I B Stone The Oglethorpe University never had a Medical Department and therefore the person referred to could not have graduated there as a physician

DAVID WILLS
Ex President.

Poor Dawne!

We do not care to pursue him in his devious veracity It will occur to the reader that it is somewhat singular that the wretched man's diploma which started from Virginia on the 7th inst, has already been three weeks on the way while the average time for postal or express matter in transit between Portland and New York is ten days So Dr" Dawne has eleven days to account for—and no diploma

After this last crushing exposure, it will be strange indeed if any voter having the least regard for decency and the smallest iota of solicitude for our public schools shall cast a ballot on the first day of June for L J Dawne for Superintendent of Public Instruction Dawne is a fraud He can never be elected The Democratic party has been Hippled It remains to be seen whether [illegible] of that party will decline to endorse this flagrant impostor at the polls Democrats are now called on to choose between the Independent candidate, M M Oglesby, a capable, honest young man, and L L Rowland a Federal office holder and the Ring candidate The result is easily foreseen Mr Oglesby will be elected

RICHARD WILLIAMS FALSEHOODS

They are numberless We will notice two of the most flagrant,

1 That he did not lobby for the passage of the bill for the purchase of the Canal and Locks in the Legislature of 1872 He has been convicted of this untruth on every stump in Eastern Oregon He will never again dare to repeat his denial

2 That he was not a subscriber for 100,000 acres of swamp land The records in the office of Clerk of the Board of Land Commissioners at Salem convict him of this falsehood

The weakest point of character are shown in [illegible] relief in a political campaign like the present one If Richard Williams has no regard for his word in other words if he cannot tell the truth will the people of Oregon trust him in Congress We think they will not We need in the National Legislature men [illegible] trustworthy servants—men whose private character is [illegible] beyond approach That man is not Richard Williams

[illegible]

The [illegible] with [illegible] Caples was actually [illegible] Armory Hall And [illegible] with which he [illegible] the [illegible] of the [illegible] There was no [illegible] for this display of ill humor It is very vulgar We simply said that John F Caples, the eminent Temperance lecturer was drunk as a boiled owl two or three days ago It was said with the best of intentions Caples is certainly a snapper up of unconsidered trifles Where is the freedom of the press if candidates on the Temperance tickets lose their temper when the truth is told Next we shall be hearing that Dave Powell takes it as [illegible] whenever we warn housewives to look out for their clothes lines on his coming to town He would ascribe some people [illegible]

BE NOT DECEIVED

We ask every thinking man to study the vote of last October as we published yesterday, and ask himself whether or not the men who voted last year against the Albany abomination will go back upon their record next Monday It requires a high degree of moral courage then to [illegible] away from the exercise of the citizen's highest franchise Think you then that the men who put their hand to the plow will now turn backward? Not at all Ninety nine one hundredths of those who refused to endorse the Albany iniquity will vote for Campbell and the remainder of the Independent State ticket And [illegible] per cent of those who voted last October under protest will rally under the Independent banner on the first day of June This with the Democratic strength won over from Grover insures the triumph of the Independent ticket and an honest administration for the coming four years Think of these things

A CANDID VIEW OF THE POLITICAL SITUATION

In the first place the Republican party has lost prestige and [illegible] great strength to any candidate by placing him in nomination The people know that the ring is not far behind and they have had all they want of the ring In the next place it is [illegible] to judge from the vote cast last fall that not over one half the Republicans can be counted on for Judge Tolman

The election of Tolman we consider impossible because it is conceded that there are more Republicans in the State enlisted in the Independent cause than there are Democrats

* * * * * * *

Information from all parts of the State show that Campbell will certainly run ahead of his ticket that many Democrats who are disaffected towards Grover will cast their votes for him while they intend to vote the rest of the party ticket There is a personal disaffection towards Gov Grover that will insure the election of Campbell if his friends are true to him Eastern Oregon will give him Wasco Grant and Umatilla and he stands well in Union and Baker where parties are demoralized, The Willamette Valley will give him a fair [illegible] majority and there is not a county in the State where he will not get a fair support —Salem Record May 28

TOLMAN DON'T BET—NOT AT ALL

The Eugene Guard says that when Tolman spoke at Eugene he denied ever having won a dollar on a horse race But he failed to explain how he John [illegible] Eugene about ten years ago when he beat the Thompson filly and left many a red cent in the whole town

In 1866 Scroggin and Bigham of this county won $300 of Tolman on the race of Jack Minor against the Tolman filly And this is the candidate of the Republican party and the nominee of the Temperance Alliance who makes such exalted pretensions to morality and temperance Notwithstanding a man stated in the Temperance Alliance that Tolman drank and bet on horses and was profane etc he received their indorsement Wm McLeod candidate for the Legislature and Stephenson for Sheriff in this county voted for him in the convention We know very well what was the matter with them Tolman is a woman suffragist and that catches men of their stamp every time Duniway would have pulled their ears and spanked them both if they had voted against Tolman A pretty record for a Temperance Convention to nominate a gambler and dram drinker for Governor'—Forest Grove Independent

POLK COUNTY ALL RIGHT

In this county no one that is well informed thinks otherwise than that the People's ticket will carry it by a handsome majority. And although the enemies of the move have been circulating falsehoods in order to accomplish its defeat it helps rather than injures the cause It has been reported in the northern end of this county that the advocates of the move have deserted the ship of reform this has been done to discourage some that had not yet fully made up their minds which ticket to vote In precincts where Democrats are in the majority, they will tell them that the Republicans have gone back and will vote for the Republican ticket and vice versa when the Republicans are in majority they will tell that Democrats in other portions of the county are playing them and that they will vote the Democratic ticket straight on election day These and similar reports have been in circulation in this county for a long time We have talked with Independents from every portion of the county and find that we are warranted in the assertion that all these are unmitigated lies and slanders in every respect gotten up for the sole purpose of weakening the People's ticket —Liberal Republican (Dallas) May [illegible]

CITY.

A BRIEF COURSE OF SHAME ENDED.—The Forest Grove Independent says More than a year ago a young lady of this vicinity, a girl of some 16 summers, whose name we omit out of respect of her relatives, a child of pious and respectable parents, fell and shortly afterward went to Portland where she run a short but mad career of shame—for being of an ungovernable nature and without experience her course could not but be brief. The victim of her folly she left that city lately for California and now the news comes that she is dead. She died in Nevada. Four days before her death she wrote to her relatives here that she would live but a short time, and in a few days came another letter relating her death and that she had a decent burial. When this wayward but most unfortunate young woman first ventured on leading a life of open shame, we published a somewhat lengthy account of her first induction into the life of misery and degradation she had voluntarily chosen. Many of our readers will doubtless remember the circumstance as well as the name of the young woman. Thus it is with those whose feet tread the thorny pathway of sin and shame. A brief, mad career, disease, premature death and a grave among strangers. And thus the world moves on, mutely lying and repeating these sad sad instances.

LETTER FROM STIKINE.—We were kindly permitted to read a letter yesterday written from Wrangell to a gentleman in this city. The letter bears date May 20th. The writer gives anything but a favorable account of the mines. He says the river opened about the 23d of April and the bottom of the mines dropped out about the same date. The very first day after the river opened about 100 disgusted men started back for Wrangell. From that time up to the date of the letter they were coming down almost every day. About 800 men are at the mines and scattered along the river but the writer says that within a few weeks there will be considerably less. Most all who went up are becoming disgusted, and are anxious to return. The general impression prevails that these mines are a first-class bilk. A good many who arrive at Wrangell are "dead broke" having expended everything in going up and coming down. The writer says there are a few claims which are rich and yield well, but there is no extent of country. Every [illegible] which leaves Wrangell is carrying away great numbers of men.

FIRE.—Smoke was discovered yesterday forenoon issuing from the kitchen of a wooden building which stands at the corner of Third and Stark streets. Two minutes later and the brazen tongues of the fire bells announced the alarm. It was discovered that the fire had communicated itself to the under side of the kitchen roof and was fiercely blazing. As yet the flames had not burst through and the water which was dashed on the roof from buckets did not reach them and was of little or no service. Axes and a ladder were soon procured, and a hole cut through which the flames and the long pent up smoke shot out. This gave the firemen an opportunity to work effectively. A powerful stream of water was directed against the fire, which was speedily quenched. The damage to the building is slight and the loss sustained very slight. Adjoining the kitchen stood the large wooden building occupied by Miller & Acker as a stable. Fortunately the fire was extinguished before the stable caught or the fire laddies would have had tropical work to subdue them.

A PLEASANT PARTY.—A number of ladies and gentlemen visited the residence of Mr Thomas Frazer, on Thursday evening, and unceremoniously marched into the house and took possession of the parlor. Notwithstanding the surprise was complete it was most agreeable. The host and hostess manifested their appreciation of the visit, by striving to render everything pleasant and agreeable. In this Mr and Mrs Frazer were very successful and entertained their kind friends in the most hospitable manner. Refreshments of all kinds were served, and after several hours spent in agreeable social intercourse, the visitors took their leave. It was a pleasant occasion and one which all the participants will long remember with the kindest associations. Accompanied by his estimable wife, Mr Frazer will take his departure from Portland in a few weeks. Mr Frazer owns an interest in a sheep ranch near Lewiston, in Idaho and it is his present intention to become a permanent resident of that Territory. He will leave a host of warm friends in Portland.

THREATENING TO KILL.—It would seem that the community [illegible] of Rooster Rock over on the Columbia, is beset with a turbulent set of fellows. Rows, quarrels and personal rencounters are of very frequent occurrence in that vicinity, and shooting and cutting affrays are not uncommon. Several days ago, Mr Wm L Smith swore out a complaint before Justice Gilmore Kelly of Powell's valley precinct, charging a man named Davis with having uttered threats against his (Smith's) life. The trial came off on the 26th. Davis admitted that he had made such threats but during the progress of the trial the defendant introduced a number of witnesses to prove that he was too cowardly to carry his threats into execution. The court discharged the defendant, taxing the costs of the case, which were quite heavy, to the county.

PRESENTATION.—At a special meeting of Willamette Engine Company No 1, held last evening, the report of the Committee on Uniform was received and adopted. Just before the meeting adjourned the President, Mr J H Lyon, in behalf of several members of the company, presented to the Foreman Mr W J Algeo, a handsome silver trumpet appropriately mounted and inscribed. Mr Lyon's remarks in making the presentation were happily chosen, and Mr Algeo's response was equally to the point.

PASSENGERS.—The steamship John L Stephens sailed last evening at 5 o clock for San Francisco. She carried away the following passengers A H Hampton, wife and 2 children, A Dickson, T P Cooke, C H Lambert, Mrs Clarke, Mrs Greeley, J B Thompson, N Wolfstein wife and child, B N Upham, N McGowa, S C Adams, wife and son, N Mack, S K A Bamberg, Mrs M I Carlisle, Miss Kate Wilders, W F & Co's messenger and 2 in the steerage.

THE MAY FEST.—To-morrow weather permitting, the Portland Turn Verein will hold their annual May Fest. Every arrangement has been made to make the [illegible] pleasant, and the gymnastic performances are of such a character that a great deal of amusement will be afforded. The attendance promises to be quite large. East Portland Park is the place where the Society hold their picnic.

FAKIR.—The throng who visit the Central Market this evening will observe quite a change in the coffee stand at the west end. When the market opened Frank [illegible] stall, now he occupies three and has completed his upper dining [illegible] ment was made [illegible] crowds visiting the popular [illegible]

OCCIDENTAL ROWING CLUB.—This is the name of a rowing club organized some time ago in this city. The following are the names of the club. Captain T J Thornhill, W C Bear[illegible], E Costello and H W Minch. The club are practicing every day in preparation to enter the regatta on the Fourth of July.

TO THE CITIZENS OF PORTLAND.

On Monday next the first day of June an election will be held for Representative to Congress, for Governor and other State officers and for the several county officers.

This election is held not alone for the choosing of particular persons to office but more especially for the purpose of ascertaining the opinions of the people of our State and county upon certain principles and measures that are at issue between the respective parties which the persons elected to office are to carry out. The right of the people to express their opinions through the ballot-box is guaranteed by the laws of the land. It is one of the dearest [illegible] guaranteed to the American [illegible] and whoever attempts by fraud or otherwise to subvert it becomes criminal in the eyes of the law, and in the opinion of all true friends of free government [illegible] the punishment prescribed by the laws. That fraudulent voting at our county and city elections have prevailed for several years past and have increased to that extent that the opinions of the people [illegible] expressed through the ballot-box have been subverted [illegible] be denied. It is [illegible] to our knowledge that persons holding official positions have admitted such to be the fact.

In our opinion such things could not be if our citizens realized the extent to which their liberties are endangered, and how often they are deprived of their expressed will by this unscrupulous system of bribery and illegal voting. The large amounts of money subscribed and expended for election purposes can be accounted for in no legitimate way and must therefore be used for corruption purposes. The [illegible] above the value of the personal services [illegible] afford the incumbents an[illegible] for this purpose and from present indications extravagant amounts will be and are being used again in this city and county for the purposes of bribery, repeating and illegal voting.

We are aware that it is the duty of the officers employed in this department to detect and bring before the courts of justice felons who violate the election laws. To this end and that of preventing crime their efforts will be specially directed.

Heretofore at elections the officers have met with some success in arresting such criminals.

As you are aware a few have been convicted of their crimes with great difficulty (except those who confessed) owing to the efforts as is believed of the greater criminals who blocked the wheels of justice all they could by suborning and secreting witnesses and other illegal means but who escaped detection themselves.

At this election we have reason to believe greater efforts to repeat and otherwise illegally vote will be made than ever before.

The present police force in point of numbers is too small in our opinion to be of much avail for detective purposes on election day. The whole force will consist of fifteen men. Ten of these will be on duty all the night before until 4 o clock A. M., Monday the day of election leaving five men for duty. Three of these will perform patrol duty, leaving two only to attend the six polling places until after noon. We do not feel authorized to employ additional persons to be paid by the city to perform police duty from the fact that the Common Council have refused to pay the policemen now employed for about three months and of course would refuse to pay any additional number. With this view we believe it to be our duty to call upon all good citizens to lend their aid to prevent illegal voting. We therefore request all of you to close up your places of business abandon your accustomed occupations on the day of election, and repair to your respective voting places to see that the citizen is not robbed of his rights to see that none vote but those who are entitled to. Your presence will do a great deal to dispel the turpitude prevailing with many persons and greatly assist to preserve the purity of the ballot-box. In all sincerity we urge upon you the necessity of attending the polls and to make all exertion to prevent your inheritance from being destroyed.

Remember that this inheritance—the liberty of the people to express their opinions through the ballot box—was secured to you by the blood of your revolutionary forefathers. It remains with you to preserve it in all its purity. To do so you must bear in mind that eternal vigilance is the price of liberty.

Respectfully,
O RISLEY

DECORATION DAY.

To-day the people all over the Union will make their annual visit to the cemeteries to strew flowers upon the graves of the warrior dead. As year by year the dark drama of the rebellion recedes farther into the past, and as later events crowd its import and incidents from the memory of men it might be thought that appreciation of the struggle would grow dim, enthusiasm abate and the whole custom of formal commemoration eventually become obsolete. When only the political [illegible] shall remain, this gradual decay of interest will probably take place. But for the present and during the current generation there are peculiar promptings to [illegible] perennial tribute. We find the inspiration of patriotic sentiment deeply intensified whithersoever we turn by the lingering influence of domestic affection. So [illegible] as the bones of fathers, brothers, sons lie under the little mounds so long will mourners gladly avail themselves of [illegible] occasion for recalling the personal traits of the departed, and of simultaneously making public attestation of pride that their blood flowed in defense of country.

Baker and Canby Post has completed all necessary arrangements to duly observe the ceremonies at the Lone Fir Cemetery. Under direction of Comrade G C Sears assisted by aid the procession will form to-day on Fourth street south of Alder and take up the line of march at 2 o clock sharp. The line of march will be up Fourth to Madison down Madison to First down First to Stark and down Stark to the ferry. At the cemetery the exercises will be opened with a selection of music by the Band, then the Soldiers Decoration Hymn will be sung as a quartet. Comrade C P Yates will deliver the address followed by an orchestral and choral performance of the national song "America." The exercises will then be proceeded with in the following order: Remarks by Post Commander I H Briggs. Prayer by Rev T L Eliot. Quartet. Hymn [illegible] Dirge by the Bands. Remarks by Post Commander I H Briggs followed by the placing of wreaths and flowers on the graves. Remarks by Senior Vice Commander J H Woodward and Post Adjutant [illegible] and with strewing of flowers. Hymn [illegible] Remarks by Comrades J B [illegible] and G C Sears with deposit of flowers. National Anthem Bands. Remarks by [illegible] Chaplain [illegible] with deposit of white flowers, ending with a dirge by the Bands after which invited guests will have an opportunity to decorate the graves of their friends when the ceremonies will [illegible]

There will be no oration in the evening as on preceding occasions. The weather gives assurance of being unusually fair. A cordial invitation is extended [illegible] the public and a large concourse [illegible] citizens [illegible] gentlemen—are [illegible] to be present and [illegible]

"Milky White" and a laughable farce and a musical melange constituted the programme last evening at Oro Fino Theater. There was present a very fair audience but the performance gave entire satisfaction and received deserved applause. This evening a splendid bill is offered. UNION TEMPERANCE MEETING.—The President of the Women's League read the resolutions passed by the First Congregational Church of this city extending their good will and support of the temperance movement. Dr Atkinson read some strange figures from the records of the city—for instance, $3 000 per month or $100 per day for police expenses. Number of arrests for 1872 was 1 219 for being drunk and disorderly 1 111 and for other crime due to intemperance [illegible] leaving for other causes 48. Arrests for city offenses the last five years 4 685 drunk and disorderly (over [illegible] per cent) [illegible] 23 other crimes due to intemperance [illegible] leaving for other [illegible] for five years [illegible] licenses drawn from the poor $1 000 fee and costs Circuit Court in criminal cases $[illegible] board of prisoners $[illegible] Two thirds of every term of the Circuit Court is occupied with criminal cases. These expenses are [illegible] due to intemperance—[illegible] the sale of whisky and you reduce the city expenses over one half and the county expenses one third. And followed with other figures at large from all parts of the nation [illegible] from the census of 1870 Oregon spent $4 251 240 etc—closing his remarks by asking his fellow citizens to arrest this great vice. Mrs Virgil read an essay giving the reasons why she was a crusader. She said our fathers pledged their lives, fortunes and sacred honor for their country. In the rebellion our husbands, brothers and sons had been the earnest of this and should American women neglect to do what [illegible] After she had closed a motion was made and carried that it be published as Tract No 1 of Crusade Series. Many ladies and gentlemen followed in short addresses. Rev A Myers gave an account of the crusade in Bucyrus Ohio, of the ordinance against and its results arousing the whole community against it, said the ladies had finally conquered the last saloon, ninety or more in number.

DECORATION

[illegible] as dale lilies please

Mid the flower wreath'd tombs I stand
Bearing lilies in my hand
Comrades in what soldier grave
Sleeps the bravest of the brave?

Is it he who sank to rest
With his colors round his breast
Friendship makes his tomb a shrine;
Garlands veil it: ask not mine

One low grave, yon trees beneath,
Bears no roses wears no wreath
Yet no heart more high and warm
Ever dared the battle storm

Never gleamed a prouder eye
In the front of victory
Never foot had firmer tread
On the field where hope lay dead

Than are hid within this tomb
Where the untended grasses bloom
And no stone with feigned distress
Mocks the sacred loneliness

Youth and beauty dauntless will
Dreams that life could ne'er fulfill,
Here lie buried here in peace
Wrongs and woes have found release,

Turning from my comrades eyes,
Kneeling where a woman lies,
I strew lilies on the grave
Of the bravest of the brave

NEWPORT R. I. Decoration Day 1874

ARMSTRONG.

In the early days of California—the olden days of gold, or the golden days of old, as you please—in a certain miners camp on the Yuba river, there lived a queer genius named Armstrong He was an honest miner but differing materially from his fellows excepting that he had a curious habit of talking to himself For the simple reason that he departed from common custom in this one particular he was, of course, voted crazy by the other miners To call all persons crazy who do not follow the customs of the majority, is a constant habit with men But, day after day Armstrong worked away with his pick and shovel, caring nothing for the remarks of his neighbors, and seeming to wish for no other partner in his toils or his rest save the invisible personage whom he always addressed in the second person singular and with whom he was almost constantly in close and earnest conversation The common drift of his talk, while at work, would be about as follows

Rather tough work, Armstrong—rich dirt, though—grub a dollar a pound—no time to waste—pitch in, sir—hanged if I don't wish I was in the States This mining's mighty hard work Nonsense Armstrong what a fool you are to be talking in that way with three ounces a day right under your feet, and nothing to do but just to dig it out

His conversation would be duly punctuated with strokes of the pick and lifts of the loaded shovel And so the days would pass along and Armstrong worked, and slept, and talked with his invisible partner Well it happened, in due course of time, that the class of human vampires, commonly called gamblers made their appearance at the camp where Armstrong worked As he was not above following the example of his fellows he paid the new comers a visit It is the same old story After watching the game awhile, he concluded it was the simplest thing in the world So he tried his luck and won—a hundred dollars! Now, any new experience would always set Armstrong to thinking and talking to himself worse than ever It was so this time! Now Armstrong, he said, as he hesitated about going to his work next morning, that is the easiest hundred dollars you ever made in your life What's the use of your going into a hole in the ground to dig for three ounces a day? The fact is Armstrong, you are sharp You were not made for this kind of work, Suppose you just throw away your pick and shovel, leave the mines, buy a suit of store-clothes and dress up like a born gentleman and go at some business that suits your talent

Armstrong was not long in putting these thoughts and sayings into action He left the diggings and invested in fine clothes. He looked like another man, but he was still the same Armstrong, nevertheless He was not long in finding an opportunity to try a new profession Walking forth in his fresh outfit, he had just concluded a long talk with himself about his bright prospects, when he halted in front of a large tent with a sign on it "Miners Rest" Armstrong went in It did not seem to him that he remained very long, but it was long enough to work a wonderful revolution in his feelings When he came out, he was a changed man—that is to say, he was a 'changeless" man. He was thunderstruck amazed bewildered. He had lost his money, lost his new prospect, lost his self-conceit—lost everything, but his new clothes and his old habit of talking to himself It is useless to say that he was mad. Armstrong was very mad. But there was no one to be mad at but Armstrong himself, so self number two was in for a rough lecture,

Now Armstrong, you are a nice specimen—you fool—you bilk—you dead-beat—you a[illegible]— Well, I need not repeat all the hard things he said. Like King Richard, he found [illegible] himself no pity for himself"

[illegible] mere words were not sufficient It was a time for action But Armstrong never once thought of shooting, drowning, hanging or any other form of suicide He was altogether too original as well as too sensible for that Yet he was resolved upon something real and practical in the way of reformatory punishment He felt the need of a self-imposed decree of bankruptcy that should render the present failure as complete as possible and prevent a similar course of foolishness in the future.

So the broken firm of "Armstrong & Self" went forth in meditation, long and deep Some of his thoughts were almost too deep for utterance But finally he stood by the dusty road along which the great freighting wagons were hauling supplies to the mining camps up the Sacramento One of these wagons, drawn by six yoke of oxen, was just passing Snap, snap, snap, in slow irregular succession came the keen stinging reports of the long Missouri ox-whip "G'lang g'lang' wo haw!" shouted the tall, dust-begrimed driver, as he swung his whip and cast a sidelong glance at the broken firm, wondering "What in thunder all them store-clothes was a-doin' thar." Now, when Armstrong saw the long column of white dust rising behind that wagon he was taken with an idea. So he shouted to the driver, to know if he might be allowed to walk in the road behind the wagon

"Get in and ride," said the driver.

"No," said Armstrong "I wish to walk.'

Then walk, you crazy fool was the accommodating response, as the driver swung his whip.

Then came the tug of war· Greek never met Greek more fiercely than did the two contending spirits composing the firm of Armstrong & Self, at that particular moment "Now, Armstrong" said the imperious head of the firm, 'you get right into the middle of that road, sir, and walk in that dust, behind that wagon, all the way to the Packers Roost, on the Yuba river." "What, with these clothes on?" 'Yes, with those clothes on' 'Why, it is fifteen miles, and dusty all the way" No matter, sir, take the road, You squander your money at three-card monte I'll teach you a lesson"

G'lang ' G'lang'' drawled the driver, as he looked over his shoulder with a curious mingling of pity contempt, and wonder on his dusty face More and more spitefully snapped the swinging whip as the slow paced oxen toiled mile after mile under the heat of a September sun And there, in the road, trudged Armstrong behind the wagon—slowly, wearily, thoughtfully, but not silently He was a man who always spoke his thoughts

'This serves you right, Armstrong Any man who will fool his money away at three card monte deserves to walk in the dust. It will spoil these clothes 'Well, don't you deserve it?' 'The dust fills my eyes [illegible] any man who gambles all his dust away at three card monte deserves to have dust in his eyes—and alkali dust at that 'The dust chokes me All right, any man who will buck at monte deserves to be choked Keep the road, sir—the middle of the road—close up to the wagon Do you think you will ever buck at monte again Armstrong

And so the poor culprit self arrested, self condemned coughed and sneezed and choked, and walked and talked mile after mile hour after hour while the great wagon groaned and creaked, the driver bawled and swung his whip the patient oxen gave their shoulders to the yoke and the golden sun of September sank wearily toward the west The shadows of evening were beginning to fall when the wagon halted at the place called Packers Roost on the Yuba

Here we rest sighed Armstrong as he drew his breath, as he looked at the stream No you don't ' answered the head of the firm. ' You buck you money away at monte [illegible] talk about resting Now Armstrong get right down the bank sir into that river ' As the command was peremptory and a spirit of obedience was thought the safest, Armstrong obeyed without parley and down he went, over head and ears store clothes and all into the cold mountain stream It was a long time that he remained in the water and under the water He would come to the surface every little while to talk, you understand It was impossible for Armstrong to forbear talking O yes he would say as he came up and snuffed the water from his nose you'll buck at monte now, will you it three card monte will you How [illegible] you like water cure?' His words were, of course, duly punctuated by irregular plunges and catchings of the breath

It so happened that the man who kept the Packers Roost had a woman for a wife She, being a kind hearted creature besought her lord to go down and help the poor crazy man out of the water

"Pshaw" said the ox driver "he aint no crazy man, he's a fool He walked behind my wagon and talked to himself all the way from Scrabbletown

Then up rose a lengthy discussion about the difference between a crazy man and a fool But, after awhile the landlord and the ox driver went down to the bank and agreed to give Armstrong security against bucking at monte in the future if he would come out of the water So he came out and went up to the house

Will you have a cup of tea or coffee asked the woman, kindly,

Yes madam, said Armstrong, ' I will take both."

He is crazy sure as can be said the woman; but she brought the two cups as ordered Milk and sugar she inquired kindly, as before

'No, madam mustard and red pepper, answered Armstrong

'I do believe he is a fool, said the woman as she went for the pepper and mustard

Armstrong with deliberate coolness put a spoonful of red pepper into the tea and a spoonful of mustard into the coffee Then he poured the two together into a large tin cup Then the old conflict raged again and, high above the din of rattling tin cups and pewter spoons, sounded the stern command, 'Armstrong drink it sir—drink it down ' A momentary hesitation and a few desperate gulps and it was down O yes," said our hero as his throat burned and the tears ran from his eyes 'you buck your money away at three card monte, do you'

Now the Thomsonian dose above described very nearly ended the battle with poor Armstrong He was silent for quite a time, and everybody else was silent After awhile, the landlord ventured to suggest that a bed could be provided if it was desired No said Armstrong 'I'll sleep on the floor 'You see stranger, said he eyeing the landlord with a peculiar expression this fool has been squandering gold dust at monte—three-card monte—and does not deserve to sleep in a bed

So Armstrong ended the day's battle by going to bed on the floor Then came the dreams He first dreamed that he was sleeping with his feet on the North Pole and his head in the tropics, while all the miners of Yuba were ground sluicing in his stomach Next he dreamed that he had swallowed Mount Shasta for supper, and that the old mountain had suddenly become an active volcano, and was vomiting acres and acres of hot lava

Then the scenes were shifted, and he seemed to have found his final abode in a place of vile smells and fierce flames politely called the antipodes of Heaven. And while he writhed and groaned in sleepless agony, a fork tailed fiend with his thumb at his nose was saying to him in a mocking voice [illegible] money away at three card monte [illegible] But even this troubled sleep had an end at last and Armstrong arose When he looked at himself in the broken looking glass that hung on the wall he thought his face bore traces of wisdom that never had been there before So he said: I think you have learned a lesson, Armstrong You can go back to your mining now sir and let monte alone" Time showed that he was right. His lesson was well learned The miners looked a little curious when he re-appeared at the camp, and still called him crazy But he had learned a lesson many of them never learned poor fellows They continued their old ways, thinking money fast and spending it foolishly—even giving it to monte dealers But the Armstrong firm was never broken in that way once After that whenever he saw one of the peculiar signs, "Robbers Roost, Fleecers Den, or Fools Last Chance" Armstrong would shake his head with a knowing air and say to himself as he passed along O, yes Armstrong, you've been there, you know all about that you don't buck your money away at three card monte—not much" —P. S. Knight (Salem, Or.) in One [illegible] Monthly for June

A CONGRESSIONAL IDIOT —A good many people want Mellish of New York examined preparatory to stowing him away in some idiot's asylum, where he will cease to make ordinary humanity desolate by having to listen to or to associate with him. He is now discovered to plagiarize everything he gets injected in the Record He copies from the reviews and embodies verbatim in his speeches' extracts from the best writers. He has got so now, that when he gets on his legs, quivering in all the agony of [illegible] egotism of the Algernon Sydney Potts type the members fairly hoot at him He has such a miserable lack of confidence in [illegible] (as well he may) that whenever he goes to ask a question even, he writes it out The other day when Phelps the wit was talking upon the centennial, Mellish arose to ask a question. Phelps suggested, wickedly, that he print his interrogatory in the Record without reading it so as to save time but as Mellish insisted Phelps yielded Now this Mellish had actually written out the quotation here given in cold blood I ask the pardon of the readers of the Leader for occupying space with it but as it so thoroughly proves the idiocy of a congressman, who in part represents the great city of New York much better than any description of him can, I give it It is as follows

"Will it not be a funny spectacle after we have invited to the celebration of the great central American idea of liberty and equal rights to all the representatives of the crowned heads of Europe, who will be exponents of the great European idea of the divine right of kings, and that the masses of mankind were created for the benefit of a few individuals, then to give them as a bill of fare the spread eagle, our 'bird o' freedom, who soars higher screams louder, sees further is the fiercest strongest the king indeed of all birds and wild fowl in all his glory and in every variety of preparation? Fee fi fo fum [illegible] —[illegible] Cor Pittsburgh Leader
